CONSTRUCTION AHEAD, title chosen for the exhibition at CA'ASI, defines the building site as a space for possibilities from which stories, reflections and questions can emerge. At the invitation of AS.ARCHITECTURE-STUDIO, Valérie Jouve, Amaury Wenger and Zhenfei Wang have produced new photographic series on this particular moment of architecture under construction. Featuring the works of these three photographers, as well as a site specific installation by Didier Faustino and a seminal film by Gordon Matta-Clark, the exhibition explores the complex relationships of architecture with time, body and image.

The catalogue, published for this occasion, will gather reflections of the invited artists and architects, drawing out a dialogue, initiated in the exhibition, between architecture and contemporary art.

Created by AS.ARCHITECTURE-STUDIO, CA'ASI is a new space for contemporary art and architecture, situated in a beautiful medieval Venetian house.

CONSTRUCTION AHEAD, titre choisi pour l'exposition à la CA'ASI, définit le chantier comme un espace des possibles où se déploient des narrations, réflexions et interrogations.

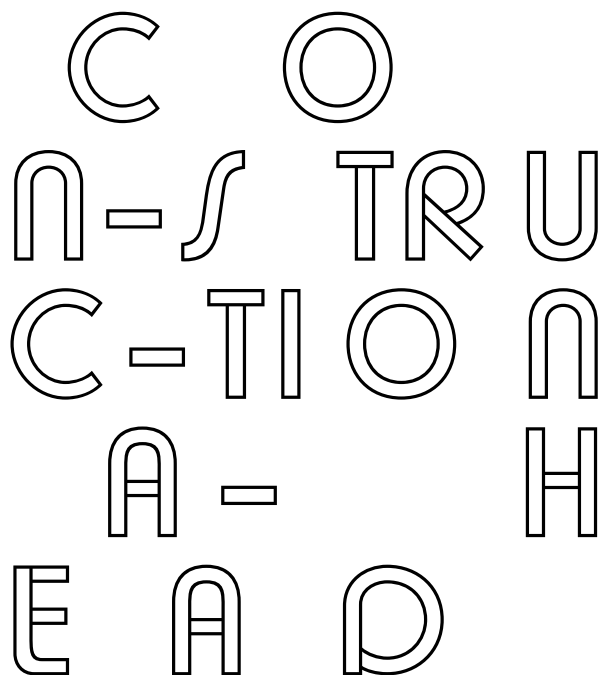

A l'invitation d'AS.ARCHITECTURE-STUDIO, Valérie Jouve, Amaury Wenger et Zhenfei Wang ont produit de nouvelles séries photographiques sur ce moment particulier qu'est l'architecture en construction. A travers les travaux de ces trois artistes, ainsi qu'une installation scénographique de Didier Faustino et un film de Gordon Matta-Clark, l'exposition explore les relations complexes qu'entretient l'architecture avec le temps, le corps et l'image.

Publié pour l'occasion, le catalogue rassemble les réflexions des artistes invités et des architectes. Il dessine un espace de dialogue, initié par l'exposition, entre architecture et art contemporain.

Créé par AS.ARCHITECTURE-STUDIO, CA'ASI est un nouveau lieu pour l'art contemporain et l'architecture, situé dans une maison médiévale à Venise.

CONSTRUCTION AHEAD, titolo scelto per l'esposizione alla CA'ASI, definisce il cantiere come uno spazio del possibile dove narrazione, riflessioni e interrogazioni si possono sviluppare. In seguito all'invito di AS.ARCHITECTURE-STUDIO, Valérie Jouve, Amaury Wenger e Wang Zhenfei hanno realizzato dei nuovi reportages fotografici relativi ad un particolare momento dell'architettura in costruzione. L'esposizione delle opere di questi tre fotografi, insieme all'installazione concepita per l'occasione da Didier Faustino nonché attraverso uno dei film più emblematici di Gordon Matta-Clark, la mostra esplora le complesse relazioni che intercorrono tra architettura, tempo, corpo ed immagine.

Il catalogo pubblicato per l'occasione riunisce le riflessioni degli artisti e degli architetti invitati creando un dialogo tra architettura e arte contemporanea, iniziato dalla mostra.

Aperto da AS.ARCHITECTURE-STUDIO, CA'ASI è un nuovo spazio per la contemporaneità e l'architettura, situato all'interno di uno bello palazzo medievale veneziano.
